THE BOARD OF HEALTH TROUBLE.

Council Investigated the Matter Last Night.

How the Trouble Started—Efforts to Organize the Old Board—The Doctors Make a Statement to the City Fathers. Council Elects a New Board—It Consists of Drs. Fry, Staples and Harrison.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night to decide the differences that have arisen among the members of the board of health. It appears that at a meeting held on August 22nd the members of the board of health, viz: Drs. Tice, Staples and Cannaday, prepared to organize. Dr. Tice was elected chairman pro tem., with Dr. Staples secretary pro tem. Drs. Staples and Cannaday nominated one another for the presidency, and after declining to cast the vote the chairman adjourned the meeting.

Dr. Staples called a meeting for the following night. At this meeting Dr. Staples was elected president, with Dr. Cannaday secretary. Dr. Tice being absent.

Dr. Tice refused to recognize the legality of the organization and sent in a monthly report of health with an accompanying letter explaining his view of the matter. Drs. Cannaday and Staples also sent in a report. The question before Council was the validity of the report sent in by Drs. Staples and Cannaday and thereby recognize their organization.

In the course of his remarks to Council Dr. Tice said that, in his opinion, he did not consider the meeting at which the board of health was organized, electing Drs. Staples and Cannaday to the office of president and secretary respectively, regular, as it had not been convened by him. There had been no president elected, and therefore, according to ordinance, it was his prerogative to call a meeting. Dr. Tice stated, in answer to a question from Councilman McClelland, that, as Dr. Cannaday was on the board, it would be impossible for them to work harmoniously.

Dr. Staples, in explaining his position, stated that it had been his suggestion to abolish the office of president of the board, which he considered superfluous, as the secretary transacted all the business of the board, but that it was not agreed upon. Also that, as he had been constituted secretary pro tem., he considered it in keeping with the office to call a meeting. He sent invitations to both Dr. Cannaday and Dr. Tice. Dr. Cannaday attended, but Dr. Tice was absent. He thought that as they constituted the majority of the board they were justified in organizing. This they did, with the result before explained.

Dr. Tice was requested to hand over to his successor all papers, etc., belonging to the board. This he refused to do, and the matter was referred to Council. Council heard the reports and complaints from all the members of the board of health at length, and on motion of Councilman Meemaw the office was declared vacant and a new board was nominated. The following were the nominees and the votes received: Dr. Staples, 11; Dr. Cannaday, 5; Dr. Tice, 7; Dr. Harrison, 7; Dr. Fry, 15. Dr. Tice withdrew in favor of Harrison. The board now consists of Drs. Harrison, Fry and Staples.

The following resolution was offered by Councilman McClelland and adopted: "That the board of health should be required to report to the Council as soon as practical what legislation is by them found necessary to protect this city from cholera, either by rigid sanitary measures or quarantine; also what legislation is necessary to enable the board of health to deal promptly with the disease should it at any time appear in the city."

"That the board of health submit its report as soon as prepared to president of Council, who shall, if it be deemed necessary, call a special meeting of the Council to consider the report."

The meeting then adjourned.

THE CRICKET GAME.

Everything in Readiness for To-day's Great Match.

The cricket match to be played to-day on the Jeanette tract, at the back of Colonel Lewis', between the Pennsylvania Railroad Cricket Club and the Roanoke Cricket Club, will be of special interest to all lovers of athletic sports. Although not the national game of the country, yet it is gaining good ground among the athletic clubs. Many never witnessed a game played. To-day's match will afford an excellent opportunity to see a good one.

Heretofore cricket matches played in Roanoke have been between purely local teams. To-day the Roanoke boys will match their science and experience with the playing of a team of reputation from the Quaker City.

There will be ample seating capacity for all visitors.

OBEYING ORDERS.

Mayor Trout's Instructions Are Being Carried Out.

Mayor Trout, in speaking of the sanitary condition of the city yesterday to a Times reporter said: "The people of Roanoke have responded to my suggestions in regard to the matter of cleaning up the city. The sanitary conditions are better than heretofore with the exceptions of certain districts. The police are now engaged in a personal inspection of every house in the city, and where nuisances are found, notice is left to abate the same within twelve hours. Unless this is done the ordinance respecting nuisances will be rigidly enforced."

Speaking of the excavation work he said: "Too many streets are being torn up at once, causing great inconvenience to our people irrespective of the danger with which it thereby threatens the city. I have caused many pools of stagnant water to be filled, and intend eradicating this nuisance from the city. We are having lime used freely in all parts of the city."

Special attention is being given to residences not connected with sewers. It appears that many properties in this city are owned by people residing away from here, and which are occupied by tenants. These tenants complain of the inability on their part to persuade their landlords to make repairs necessary to good sanitation.

THE CENTRAL DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

Much Business Transacted at the Meeting Last Night.

The Central Democratic Club held its weekly meeting last night in the Federation Labor Hall, with an unusually large attendance. A. J. Rowan, the vice-president, was in the chair. The report of T. W. Miller in regard to his mission to New York in July, was received, and thanks extended to Mr. Miller by the club. The Central Democratic Club has been admitted to the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

It was decided that the Cleveland and Stevenson banner be unfurled and hung not later than the 26th inst. Several new members were admitted to membership in the club. A motion prevailed that a committee be appointed to act in unison with the executive committee to secure rooms to be kept open day and night so that the people who desire to spend an hour pleasantly may find plenty of campaign literature to read.

J. E. M. Wright, of Danville, who was president of the Cleveland and Hendricks Club in Lynchburg in 1885 and also president of a Democratic club at Alhambra Court House in 1888, was introduced by S. R. Jones. He entertained the club for half an hour, discussing the issues of the day in a speech full of wit, pathos and eloquence. Mr. Jones was then called upon and delivered a short address.

The Central Club was notified by R. J. Eckloff, secretary of the executive committee, that they extended an invitation for the club to participate in any and all demonstrations, and that their committee stood ready to assist the club in any manner to promote the Democratic club. The invitation was accepted. Mr. Wright presented the club with a twenty-five pound box of the Pride of Winston chewing tobacco. The thanks of the club was extended to Mr. Wright.

A Full Weaver Ticket Nominated.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Sept. 16.—[Special]—The Third party convention met this morning and a permanent organization was effected without delay. The following candidates for Congress were nominated: First district, W. R. Mason; Second, Frank Baltzell; Third, J. F. Tate; Fourth, A. P. Longshore; Fifth, W. C. Whitley; Sixth, Jno. M. Davis; Seventh, Blackwell; Ninth, J. H. Parsons, brother of the United States District attorney here. The convention nominated a full Weaver electoral ticket. The two factions of the republican party are hopelessly split, both committees having adjourned without agreement.

Campaign Opened in West Virginia.

PROGRESS OF THE CHOLERA.

A Suspected Case Reported in New York Yesterday.

The Steamship Bohemia Arrives at Quarantine With a Record of Eleven Deaths—This is the Last of the Immigrant Ships—The Spanish Government Has Declared a Quarantine Against New York—The Disease Increasing in Hamburg.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—[Special]—Up to four o'clock to day only one suspected cholera case was reported, that of Edward Hoppe, who died at 1625 Madison avenue yesterday. The case is under investigation. The arrival of the Bohemia with eleven deaths on the voyage and four new cases makes the last of the Hamburg immigrant carrying vessels, the practice ceasing with this vessel. The deaths are ascribed to gastro-intestinal trouble, but have the appearance of genuine cholera.

The Normannia's passengers on the Cepheus were safely landed in the afternoon and the fifty who would not come up by boat arrived by railroad from Babylon. They all complain of the Hamburg Packet Company but commend the Normannia's officers and the coolness of the passengers and crew.

Reports received show that the presence of cholera here has caused needless alarms in many places where ordinary illness has been hastily asserted to be Asiatic cholera. Some diminution of travel has already occurred owing to fears of a State quarantine, but thus far New York has successfully combated the disease. The emergency cholera plan is steadily growing. No new cases are reported at quarantine.

HAMBURG, Sept. 16.—[Special]—Cholera again increasing here. Two hundred and twenty-two new cases and ninety-eight deaths were reported yesterday, an increase of eighteen cases and seventeen deaths from yesterday.

MADRID, Sept. 16.—[Special]—The Spanish government has declared a quarantine against New York.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—[Special]—The talk of the president's proclamation suspending immigration has subsided. The Atlantic steamship companies, learning that the attorney-general had given an opinion to the president that his powers were ample, sent a statement to the treasury of the number and character of passengers on route with the assurance that no further immigrant traffic will be permitted by them.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 19.—[Special]—Fifty-nine cases were reported in the city yesterday; deaths, eight, a decrease of four cases and nine deaths. In the Lieutenant of Caucasus 477 new cases and 204 deaths were reported on Tuesday. The epidemic is still virulent in the provinces of Saratoff, Samara, Simbirsk, Tambov, Kazan, Voronezh, Lublin and Don territory.

CONVENTION OF DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

A Largely Attended Meeting at Raleigh, N. C. Yesterday.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 16.—[Special]—The State Association of Democratic Clubs met to-day in Raleigh and was largely attended. Senator Ransom was chosen temporary chairman and W. W. Fuller permanent president. The following officers for the ensuing four years were elected: Julian S. Carr, of Durham, president; B. C. Beckwith, Raleigh, secretary; John W. Thompson, of Raleigh, treasurer. The following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the State Association of Democratic Clubs, largely composed of ex-Confederate soldiers, reaffirm the principles enunciated in the national Democratic platform as adopted at Chicago, and heartily endorse every word and syllable thereof, and repudiate the utterances of the Durham Globe, an independent newspaper, regarding pensions being inconsistent with the national Democratic platform."

The Musical Society.

The proposed organization of a permanent musical society is eagerly looked forward to by all singers and musicians of Roanoke, and the indications are that it will be participated in by a very large body of musical people. The Hobbie music hall has been secured for the first meeting, which will be held during the early part of the coming week. A later and more definite announcement of the exact date of this meeting may be expected in to-morrow's issue of THE TIMES.

STATE OF TRADE.

The Cholera Has Had No Effect Upon Business.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—[Special]—R. G. Dun & Co.'s report says: The cholera has landed, and the business of New York goes on exactly as if it had not. Cars are crowded with passengers and streets are as badly blocked with cart-loads of merchandise as they were on the week one year ago, which means that the heaviest trade ever known at this season is now in progress. The same is true of other cities, almost without exception, and the outlook for the fall trade is at all points regarded as exceedingly good. But many people are afraid that all other people will be afraid, and consequently the speculative markets declined.

There has been much talk about the pestilence as an excuse for the low prices in breadstuffs and cotton. But the fact is that the enormous stocks brought over from last year afforded sufficient reason for the exceedingly low prices. In cotton there has been a heavy selling, and September options are below seven cents, though the price for spot cotton is unchanged. The trade at Louisville is improving; at Nashville fair, and at Galveston the late cotton crop causes slow collections, though the trade otherwise improves. At New Orleans the business is only fair and money is in strong demand, but cotton is lower while sugar and rice are active and strong.

Iron is more steady, the output September 1st being only 151,648 tons, against 155,136 August 1st, and unsold stocks have been reduced about 63,000 tons. The demand for structural iron is very encouraging, and plate mills are well supplied, but quotations are variable and bar iron is unsettled. In dry goods there has been a notable increase in the number of buyers, and the market is more nearly bare of woolen goods than it has been for years, medium worsted and serge trades having the preference.

There is a heavy demand for cottons and medium bleached goods are higher with firm demand. Carpets are stronger and many mills demand an advance of 2 1/2 cents. Respecting cholera it is well to remember that the sanitary precautions are more thorough than ever before, and at most the foreign cities have sufficed to prevent the spread of the disease.

The business failures throughout the country for the last seven days, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number for the United States 154 against 210 of last year.

STEVENSON AT RALEIGH.

He Receives an Enthusiastic Welcome and Makes a Speech.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 16.—[Special]—The reception of General Stevenson here was a great ovation. Eight thousand persons were present and the city largely decorated. A long procession of carriages and marshals passed to St. Mary's Grove, where immense crowd assembled. Stevenson said he had been greatly touched by the hearty welcome received at every point visited in North Carolina.

"I do not feel," he said, "that I stand before you as a stranger. The traditions, history and glory of old North Carolina are as dear to me as to yourselves. The blood of my kindred, as of yours, was shed at King's Mountain, and my kindred, with yours, united in formulating the Mecklenburg declaration of independence."

Taking up the political campaign he said the administration of Grover Cleveland was confessedly an honest administration of the government. No scandals were attached to his appointments to office. During his administration the bonds of the government were paid at maturity and everything that you are required to buy for your families from a cradle to a grave was at the lowest market price.

Mr. Stevenson then criticized the McKinley bill and its increase of duties, countervailing the arguments that the consumer did not pay a tax and that protection increased wages.

Senator Stewart for Weaver.

WINNEMUCCA, NEV., Sept. 16.—[Special]—The second convention of the silver party was held here last evening for the purpose of instructing its electoral ticket to vote for Weaver and Field. Senator Stewart, in an address to the convention, declared that both Presidents Cleveland and Harrison had disregarded their respective platforms and after election had used their power to demonetize silver. He said a vote for either Harrison or Cleveland was a vote for the enemy of paramount industry to Nevada. Weaver was the only presidential candidate whose position on the silver question harmonized with Nevada's interests. He declared he would vote for Weaver and advocate his election on the stump.

Mrs. Harrison's Condition.

LOON LAKE HOUSE, N. Y., Sept. 16.—[Special]—There was no particular change in Mrs. Harrison's general condition to-day. The result of this morning's operation has, however, given the attending physicians some slight encouragement, as the quickness of her recovery from the shock indicated the possession of considerable strength and vitality. While the danger of a fatal termination of the case is not altogether removed by the successful treatment of the pleuritic complication, the latter circumstance of course, adds considerably to the ultimate prospects of the patient.

A London Bank Suspends Payment.
LONDON, Sept. 16.—[Special]—The London Provident Bank, a combination bank and building society, suspended payments to-day. The stoppage is ascribed to the run by the depositors. The managing director is Tom Brown.

THE CONFERENCE ADJOURNS.

Physicians Conclude Their Labors at Alleghany Springs.

Many Interesting Papers Read and Discussed—Among Them Was One by Dr. Pedigo, of Roanoke, Which Received Favorable Comment—The Examining Board Filled—A Delightful Banquet Given at Night.

ALLEGHANY SPRINGS, Sept. 16.—[Special]—The society convened at 10:30 this morning. Dr. John S. Apperson offered a resolution to the effect that all fellows who are in arrears four years in the payment of their dues have their names dropped from the list of members. After some discussion the resolution passed.

Dr. Richard T. Stoll made his report as treasurer and the report was referred to the auditing committee. Drs. J. K. Patterson, of Lynchburg, and Julian H. Abbott were elected to fellowship into the society.

Dr. S. W. Dickinson, of Marion, read a paper on "Some New Ideas that are Old." He was followed by Dr. C. M. Blackford, of Lynchburg, who introduced the society for thirty minutes by the delivery of a thoughtful lecture on "The Causative Relations of Bacteria to Disease."

The discussion of the paper occupied several hours and was participated in by Drs. Joseph Price, of Philadelphia; Thomas J. Moore, of Richmond; Lewis G. Pedigo, of Roanoke; G. B. Massie, of Philadelphia, and others. The remarks of Dr. Price were profoundly interesting. His success as an abdominal surgeon has been great under a strict observance of the "gospel of cleanliness."

At the afternoon meeting, two members of the medical examining board having resigned, the society proceeded to the nomination of others to fill the vacancies. Dr. Paulus A. Irving, of Richmond, and John W. Dillard, of Lynchburg, were chosen to fill the vacancies.

Dr. W. M. O'Brien, of Alexandria, Va., read a paper on "Injuries of the Knee, Their Treatment and Results, With Special Reference to the Prevention and Cure of Suppurative Action in and About the Joint." The paper was discussed by Drs. Hugh T. Nelson, of Charlottesville; Herbert M. Nash, of Norfolk; Thomas Moore, of Richmond; and others.

The new president, Dr. H. M. Nash, was introduced by Dr. Latham, who was greeted by the society with enthusiastic applause. Dr. L. G. Pedigo read a paper on "Some Uses of the Iodides," which was favorably commented upon by a number of gentlemen.

A resolution of thanks was passed for the hospitality extended the members of the society by the proprietor of the springs. In the evening papers were read by Drs. Robt. O. Owen, of Lynchburg; Joseph Prie, of Philadelphia; G. Betton Massie, of Philadelphia; Irving C. Ross, of Washington, D. C.; and J. Samuel Fort, of Elliott City, Maryland, after which the society adjourned sine die.

Then came the banquet, which was a magnificent affair. Claret, sherry and champagne flowed in great profusion and all were soon in a state of exhilaration. Many beautiful ladies were present and their merry laughter added a charm to the occasion as nothing else can. After the following toasts the lively pour dispersed at 2 a. m. This has been one of the most important and interesting meetings of the society ever held.

TOASTS.

1. "Our Invited Guests," Dr. Edward Ricketts, of Cincinnati.
2. "The Medical Society of Virginia. Brothers, Let Us Love One Another," Dr. W. W. Pax.
3. "The Alumni of the University of Virginia. There Were Giants in Those Days," Dr. Stewart McGuire.
4. "Modern Surgery. Pluck and Soap. Like all Good Things, if We Can't Get Money, Come High," Dr. A. Price.
5. "The Country Doctor. Solid and Self-reliant He Fights the Battle of Responsibility," Dr. B. W. Martin.
6. "The Eye, the Window of the Soul," Dr. J. A. White.
7. "The Medical College of Virginia. May She Live Long and Prosper," Dr. Michan.
8. "The Medical Examining Board. The Bulwark vs. Quackery and Ignorance," Dr. Chancellor.
9. "The University of Virginia," Dr. Hugh T. Nelson.
10. "The Medical Press," Dr. Edwards.
11. "The Ladies. We Can't Get on Without Them," Dr. C. W. Row.

Clarkson Re-elected.

BUFFALO, Sept. 16.—[Special]—The National Republican league convention to-day chose Louisville for the place of holding the convention and the second Wednesday in May of next year the time by practically a unanimous vote. National Committee-man Campbell, of Illinois, said: "Let us cultivate a tree down there and the fruit will drop into our hands. Let us go down to the South and meet the people and shake hands across the Ohio river." Clarkson was unanimously chosen president, succeeding himself. Whitlaw Reid addressed the convention.

Richmond Taking Precautionary Measures.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 16.—[Special]—A meeting of the board of health and advisory board was held to-night, at which it was decided to inspect all trains and steamers coming into the city as a precautionary measure against the introduction of cholera. Steps were taken, having in view the improvement of the sanitary condition of the city.

The Weather.
Forecast for Virginia: Fair, slightly warmer; light west to north winds.
